Is it for me?

If you are between 18-30 years old, you can easily go abroad to somewhere in Europe or beyond, and volunteer for 2-12 months thanks to the European Solidarity Corps programme.

How is it?

After a simple registration process you can apply to join wide range of projects, such as helping to prevent natural disasters, assisting in centers for asylum seekers or addressing social issues in communities and many more.

Where is the catch?

The costs for travel, accommodation, food and pocket money are covered by the program. Health insurance and language learning are also included and there is no participation fee. So, no catch, everything is made easy for you.

Interested? Here is how we can help:

We are an accredited sending organization and offer volunteering opportunities to young people living in Germany together with our partners in different countries across Europe and the World.

We can help you find a project you are interested in. If you already found one by yourself, contact us. In any way we will support you on your volunteering path.

"European Youth Portal" is the best way you can find all the additional information on how to search and apply for ESC projects that would suit your needs best. For all the rest, we are here for you.
